Matching Needs with Knowledge

Our Mission:

We provide citizens of Greater Worcester with compassionate and affordable veterinary care. Our clientele must pre-qualify to receive our significantly subsidized animal care.

Under the leadership of Dr. Greg Wolfus, the student-run Tufts at Tech veterinary clinic provides low-cost care for family pets within Central Massachusetts' underserved communities. Collaborating closely with Dr. Wolfus, Christina Melvin and Melissa Supernor, Certified Veterinary Technicians, oversee the instruction of the Worcester Technical High School students within the clinic.

Together, Tufts University's Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine and Worcester Technical High School address the healthcare needs of the area's beloved animal companions.

Tufts at Tech is an innovative teaching facility for students enrolled at the Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine and at Worcester Technical High School. Final Year Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) candidates and Worcester Technical High School students within the Veterinary Assisting program work collaboratively under the direction of experienced, highly-trained veterinarians and certified veterinary technicians to provide the highest quality primary care for your family pets.

Patient Services:

Tufts at Tech provides the Greater Worcester community with exceptional low-cost, preventative and primary care for companion animals, including:

- Routine wellness care
- Vaccinations and parasite screening and prevention
- Stable urgent care: ear infections, vomiting, diarrhea, urinary infections, upper respiratory infections
- Diagnostic services: blood testing, digital radiology
- Basic surgeries: spay/neuter, small mass removal, wound repair
- Dentistry

The pet population served by Tufts at Tech is composed of clients with limited financial means from the Greater Worcester area. Tufts at Tech strives to improve the quality of life for underserved pets in our community. All of our clients must qualify for veterinary services by providing a positive photo ID along with one of the following:

- WIC (Women, Infant, and Children) card with ID.
- SNAP (Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program) card with ID.
- WHA (Worcester Housing Authority) resident card with ID
- Qualified Housing Authority card with ID
- WTHS (Worcester Technical High School) student card with ID.
